Quick guide to the Online Model UN delegate

This document includes the main requirements, as well as all the main procedures that will be applied during the Online Model of the United Nations. This document is a short guide, so it does not describe in detail the purpose of each of the procedures, it only briefly describes the main actions that must be performed by the delegate during the UN model, thus it is a "cheat sheet" for delegates. All concepts, regulations and procedures are described in detail in the document "Rules of procedure of the Online Model of the United Nations".

Basic requirements for delegates:

- Every delegate has to respect every participant of Model UN, and also comply with speech and behavioral norms during communication and negotiation with every participant of the Model;
- Before online Model UN begins every delegate has to set up his/her own nickname which will be displayed on the online platform, for future identification of the delegate by chairmen and other delegates.
- Despite the remote conduction of Model UN, delegates have to have official dressing (full dressing set which matches official style is welcomed. In case of absence of the opportunity complying with official dressing, delegate has to talk to chairmen and find equivalent option of the dressing);
- Every delegate has to turn on the web camera during the speech and also by chairmen's request;
- In case of any technical problems (issues with the device, with the internet connection or any other), delegate urgently should reach the chairmen by any available and alternative type of communication; the decision of future participation of the delegate will be taken by chairmen immediately!

Quick guide to procedures

(Attention, please note that this section only provides a summary of the actions that delegates must perform during any of the procedures! Attention, new Delegates are strongly advised to read the full Version of the rules of Procedure of the Online Model UN New Silk Way! Attention, Delegates who are already familiar with the format of the UN models, we strongly recommend that you read the item "Additional Procedures", as well as the items that have a special sign " Attention!", because the rules of Procedures have certain innovations!)
